Every man who has been in the Mormon church long enough to become aware of its teaching and practices has had thoroughly instilled into his being the idea that it is his first duty to render absolute and "unquestioning obedience" to his "file leader," and that "file leader" is also thoroughly impregnated with the idea that "unquestioning obedience" must in turn be rendered to his file leader," and so on up the ecclesiastical line of "file leaders" till the man who stands at the head of the church is reached, who thus becomes the absolute autocrat of this kingdom on earth. The foregoing extract from a sermon of Joseph F. Smith's is nicely interpreted by the extract which has previously been used by the writer, and others, from a ermon which he delivered in Provo,

April 19, 1896, in which he said:

The fact of the matter is, when a man says you can direct me spiritually, but not temperally, he lies in the presence of God-that is, if he has got intelligence enough to know what he is talking about.

BOISE, Feb. 4.—Supervisor of Forest Reserves Fenn has just received from the department at Washington a copy of the revised regulations regarding grazing. There are two changes in the new regulations which are very important to sheepmen in the mountainous portions of the State. The old regulation, which read: "Sheep must not be bedded more than six nights in succession in the same place, except when bedding bands of ewes during lambing senson, and must not be bedded within 600 yards of any running stream or living spring," has been modified. The word of the Lord and the words of his servants have been proved many times, and that before our eyes, our leaders were led by the gairt of Ged, and I can bear testimony the egirlt of God, and I can hear testimony that our prophets and leaders have the spleit of the Lord, and they are clothed upon with the holy priesthood of God, and all the powers and legs thereof, and with the holy anniating, and are fully authorized and qualified to build up the kingdom of God upon the earth, they are inspired by the same spirit that the ancients were: they want to build up the kingdom of God, this is their object. ## SUPREME COURT OF IDAHO UNTIES KNOT

Decision Settles Controversy Between Two Northern Counties of State.

WERE AWARDED POINTS

Action Was to Compel Issuance of Warrants Amounting to $60,655.

BOISE, Ida., Feb. 4.-In the case of Shoshone county vs. Nez Perce county

Shoshone county vs. Nez Perce county the Supreme court has just handed down a decision in which both parties won points. The writ of mandate prayed for by Shoshone county was to compel Nez Perce county to issue warrants of the county to Shoshone to the amount of $80,05.98, a sum found by accounts to be due the latter county, and this is ordered issued by court. The court finds however, in favor of Nez Perce county in its contention that the portion of Shoshone county annexed to Nez Perce shall pay the indebtedness represented by the warrants. The court holds that the warrants will be an obligation of Nez Perce county only as agent for Shoshone county in the collection of taxes in the annexed district levied by Shoshone county and certified to Nez Perce county for collection.

What Decision Says.

What Decision Says.

What Decision Says.

The decision says Shoshone county has authority to levy taxes on all its former territory for payment of its indebtedness, whether bonds or warrants, and it shall levy such taxes against the segregated territory for payment of its ratable proportion of the debt as determined by accountants. These taxes, collected by Nez Perce, will apply on these warrants. The decision was written by Justice Alishie and concurred in by Chief Justice Stocksiager, Justice Sullivan dissenting.

Origin of the Suit.

Origin of the Suit.

The case originated from an application made on behalf of Shoshone county for a writ of mandate to compel certain officials of Nez Perce county to issue warrants on the general fund of that county for the sum of $60,52.95, which amount was certified to by accountants appointed under provision of an act of the Legislature of March 19, 1962. The controversy grew out of the detachment of a portion of the territory of Shoshone county and annexing the same to Nez Perce county, pursuant to the provisions of that act.

Both Supporters and Opponents of Measure Are Determined on Fight.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 4.-Senator Beveridge will again have charge of the Statehood bill and is hopeful of securing a comparatively early vote, but many of his colleagues fail to agree with him on that point.

The supporters of the bill are strenuous in its advocatey and their opponents are just as determined. It is not generally expected that either side will yield until there is more definite information as to the probable result of a vote than can now be secured.

Stick on Fornker Amendment.

The critical point of controversy will be the Forsker amendment, giving the Arizona people the privilege of voting on the question of admission. It is understood that the Democratic Senators will be almost a unit in support of this amendment and that it will also secure a number of Republican votes.

Just how many Republican supporters there may be is not known, and until there is definite information on that point the opponents of the bill will not agree to let a vote be taken.

PARIS. Ky., Feb. 4.—One of the most remarkable cases of sight being restored as the result of an accident has occurred here. Lealle Combs, in a fight on a Paris-Lexington interurban car with an unknown man, was almost slashed to ribbons. Combs has been totally blind in one eye for several years and in the hight with the stranger was cut across the face several times, a portion of his nose being cut off. There was also a deep cut down the forehead and across the eyelid, the eyebuil being also slightly plerced. Today the swelling in Combs's face had subsided sufficiently to admit of his opening the lid of the injured eye. To his interme surprise Combs was able to see as well as ever. Local physicians attribute the recovery of his eyesight to the fact that some nerve in the eyeball which had caused the blindness was severed. Combs loses half his nose, but says he is glad to exchange that for two good eyes.
